

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to a process for enhancing the yield of molecular sieve zeolite during the synthesis from a sodium aluminosilicate reaction mixture, said process comprising the step of adding at an intermediate stage of crystallization a source of aluminum to the sodium
5 aluminosilicate reaction mixture and allowing the mixture to crystallize.